

Publication: Metro

Date: Tuesday, December 18, 2007

Page: 5

Extract: 1 of 1

Circulation: 75.381

Author:

Headline: CRIB CAUTION

CRIB CAUTION

CHRISTMAS may be a time of giving, but one security firm is warning people not to give away too much – unwittingly – to burglars. Top Security told people to exercise extra caution at this time of year. They should place Christmas trees away from windows – keeping gifts out of view of potential robbers – and should avoid leaving answering machine messages describing their whereabouts if on holiday. The firm also advises people to leave a radio or TV on when not at home.