

FastBusiness

With this headset the value is clear

THERE are plenty of Bluetooth headsets on the market to help you keep on the right side of the penalty points. And considering their similarity in size and shape, you could be forgiven for thinking there is little or no difference between them, save for price and brand name.

The latest offering from Plantronics, however, goes a little further.

Apart from the AudioIQ digitally enhanced sound that reduces background noise by up to 50% on both sides of the call the Discovery 665 is supplied with a charging dock, a car charger, USB charger, mains charger, three sizes of soft gel ear tips and an earloop attachment.

The Plantronics Discovery 665 is priced at €99.99 (Ex VAT) and is available from Harvey Norman and 3G Stores nationwide, as well as www.phones.ie.

Top Security offers

free email service

AS HACKERS, cyber criminals and 'malware authors' become increasingly sophisticated in their quest to corrupt, infect and steal via e-mail, Irish-owned international security firm, Top Security today launched a free web-based email service which provides the ultimate in email security.

Called Topmail, the service is aimed both at the home and small business user looking for a highly secure and easy to manage email account.

Features include a 24/7 global email monitoring service; a unique @topmail.ie email address; and a free 100MB mailbox.

Rise in ebay profit

EBAY have posted a 50% rise in net profit on the back of strength in its auction and PayPal units.

Revenue as well as margins for Ebay's auctions and fixed price shopping grew, with revenue rising 26% and breaking out of the 22% to 24% range of the prior four quarters. But new sales listings fell 6%.

Ebay and PayPal employ more than 800 people in Blanchardstown.

The Plantronics
Discovery 665